Intimate Partner Violence Resources for Primary Care Associations (PCAs)

Looking for resources and strategies on intimate partner violence (IPV)? Health Partners on IPV + Exploitation is here to help! We serve the nation's network of health centers (HCs) by offering training on patient-centered services, community partnerships, developing policies, and integrating processes designed to promote prevention and referral to supportive services for individuals at risk for, experiencing, or surviving IPV, human trafficking, and exploitation. www.healthpartnersipve.org

Three Key Actions for PCAs:

1. Partner with domestic/sexual violence (DSV) coalitions to strengthen policy efforts and promote partnerships between HCs and DSV programs. Coalitions operate in every U.S. state and territory, and for Tribes. Reach out to staff from your local coalition to collaborate and map member programs:
   - State & U.S. Territory Coalitions Against Domestic Violence
   - Tribal Domestic Violence Coalitions
2. Introduce CUES (Confidentiality, Universal Education, and Support), an evidence-based intervention, to your HCs. CUES educates all patients about relationships, the health impact of IPV, and supportive resources. This differs from screening by giving all patients information on the health impact of IPV and safety support, regardless of their disclosure of current or past violence. Learn more.
3. Stay Involved. Health Partners on IPV + Exploitation hosts free webinars and small group trainings throughout the year. Sign up for our monthly newsletter, "Catalyst for Change", on the bottom of our homepage to stay up to date about our latest learning opportunities, new resources, and updates from the field.
